

THE STORY OF KAHLUA

Kahlua is a beautiful red nosed pit bull. She found herself homeless at a local animal control facility with a leg injury and no formal training to learn manners. She was very active and came across as uncontrollable and a little aggressive. Her leg injury, left unattended, could not be repaired and meant leg had to be amputated. During this process, Kahlua was fostered by a family for over 10 months, because they believed she deserved a chance. Kahlua received proper medical care and training that resulted in her becoming the perfect family companion and a great “spokesdog” for pit bulls. She soon found her forever family. Life is good for Kahlua and her new family, all because of rescue.
