

The story of Jimmy

At about 8 years old, Jimmy was brought to local vet by his owners, a family he had lived with all of his life. They asked the vet to euthanize Jimmy because he needed a dental and they did not want to pay for it. The vet was appalled and asked them to sign him over to her. She immediately called a local rescue group who was more than happy to take him into foster to be updated on vaccinations, be treated for ear infection and get a much needed dental.

His new foster said Jimmy was a perfect gentleman. His dental was a small price to pay for such a wonderful dog. He attended several adoption fairs and all who knew Jimmy were amazed that week after week, he did not find a family.

Jimmy appeared in Paw Print magazine and caught the eye of a lady who had recently lost her “mature” dog. She met Jimmy and it was love at 1st sight for both she and Jimmy. She has said she is glad he waited for her to find him because they are perfect for each other.

Jimmy’s forever home is next door to an older couple who love dogs but felt it not fair for them to adopt at their stage in life. They have become Jimmy’s grandparents now and his family grows! Jimmy is so loved and cared for and he seems to soak up the love every day.

Sometimes it is just meant for a pet to wait for that perfect home, and Jimmy has found it for sure!
