

The Story of Angel, a cat with 3 legs

Angel was about 7 months old and living life as part of a feral colony. Life for a feral cat was not always nice. No one will ever know how she got there as she obviously was not a feral cat. She had obviously been someone's pet, but when she found herself homeless, she found survival possible within a colony of feral cats. Eventually, she found her way into Cat Tails. Upon examination, x-rays showed that her front leg had been badly injured and with no treatment, it had not healed well. The blood flow had been cut off, not allowing the leg to heal properly. The injury would become increasingly painful as Angel grew and gained weight. Cat Tails and Angel's vet decided to amputate Angel's left front leg. She was only 7 months old and made a full recovery. Some vets say dogs and cats are born with 3 legs and spare! Angel did not miss the painful leg and healed well, but no one wanted to adopt a cat with a missing leg.

One day a man came into Cat Tails. He was missing a leg too! Angel could not believe her luck when this man's eyes came to her first! Her heart soared when he looked at Angel as something other than "damaged". This man, missing a leg, wanted Angel, a cat missing a leg! Angel thinks they were meant for each other.
