

STORY OF BUTTONS

Buttons was rescued from a shelter where his owners casually dropped her off like yesterday's news. You see, Buttons was a breeder and had produced lots of tiny little puppies that were bought. Her life was not so great though. No veterinary care and lots of litters produced left Buttons tiny body weak. She suffered with a severe heart murmur and large mammary tumors. We hoped we could change the picture for Buttons but it was not meant to be. Her heart would not survive the anesthesia for the surgery. Buttons did not get a chance to be loved, but she will be remembered. There are so many dogs like Buttons who deserve a better life but it will not come. We wish life for Buttons could have had a better ending.

Please don't shop. Adopt your next best friend!